First words

THIS IS HELLO and farewell. After twenty festivals, 2025 will be my last, leaving a Wigtown-shaped hole where my heart is. I'd like to thank everyone who has contributed to the success of the event over the past two decades – staff, volunteers, supporters and writers. It has been a joy and a privilege to be part of your story. It's easy to forget how improbable the idea of Wigtown as a cultural centre would have seemed before the creation of the Book Town in 1998. Its success – and that of the festival – has been an extraordinary act of collective faith and imagination. Long may it continue!

Adrian Turpin Creative Director

WE ARE INCREDIBLY grateful for the support of all our funders, sponsors and donors, who make everything possible. As Adrian departs for pastures new, we'd also particularly like to applaud his dedication over two decades, backed by our tireless trustees, staff and volunteers. Whether this is your first or twenty-seventh festival, we hope his inspiringly eclectic programme shows why Wigtown Book Festival is so special. Happy browsing and, most importantly, the warmest of Wigtown welcomes.

BOOKSHELF

With more than 200 events over 10 days, this year's festival is as rich and varied as the contents of Wigtown's bookshops

◀ Kate Summerscale

The Peepshow: The Murders at 10 Rillington Place
SUN 28 SEP 4.30PM
Revealing the lives of the victims of the 10 Rillington Place murders, Kate Summerscale sheds new light on our fascination with true crime – and offers a new solution to the infamous case.

▲ Nicola Sturgeon

Frankly
MON 29 SEP 7.30PM
The former first minister is in conversation with broadcaster Gavin Esler about her deeply personal memoir, which retraces her steps from working-class Ayrshire to Bute House.

COMPLETE DAILY EVENT LISTINGS BEGIN ON PAGE 16

▲ Robin Ince

Normally Weird and Weirdly Normal: My Adventures in Neurodiversity

WED 1 OCT 6PM
In this thoughtful exploration of his own anxiety, ADHD and neurodiversity, one of our smartest comedians reminds us all that it's OK to be different.

UP FRONT

◀ Julie Wilson Nimmo & Greg Hemphill

Jules & Greg's Wild Swim

SUN 5 OCT 4.30PM
The couple that swims together stays together. The Balamory star and the Still Game co-creator talk about their lives in comedy and their passion for taking the plunge across Scotland.

▶ Len Pennie

poyums annaw

SAT 27 SEP 6PM
When the British Book Awards winner first came to prominence during lockdown, Scotland knew it had found a powerful new voice: defiant, tender, angry and trailblazing. A poet who redefines what poetry is and who it is for.

▶ Steve Bunce

Around the World in 80 Fights: A Lifetime's Journey to the Heart of Boxing
MON 29 SEP 3PM
This white-knuckle autobiography from the voice of UK boxing explores the good, the bad and the ugly of the sport that he's spent four decades covering around the world.

▶ John Suchet

In Search of Beethoven
MON 29 SEP 4.30PM
In a love letter to the composer, Suchet draws on his life as a foreign correspondent and news anchor to show how Beethoven's music has inspired and consoled him.

◀ Louise Minchin

Isolation Island
FRI 3 OCT 6PM
Ten strangers. A remote Scottish island, and a reality TV show. What could possibly go wrong? The broadcaster talks about her debut novel inspired by Agatha Christie.

◀ Reeta Chakrabarti

Finding Belle

SAT 27 SEP 7.30PM
The BBC journalist and news anchor on her debut novel, a tale of mothers, daughters and family betrayal, set against the backdrop of Mombasa, Kolkata and Britain.

▶ Frances Wilson

The Enigma of Muriel Spark
MON 29 SEP 1.30PM
One of our most original biographers explores the novelist's formative years: a tale that encompasses espionage, attempted murder, blackmail and religious mania, but above all blossoming genius.

RORY CELLAN-JONES

▲ Rory Cellan-Jones

Sophie From Romania

SAT 27 SEP 1.30PM
From an isolated Romanian barn to a life in London: the broadcaster and author of Ruskin Park tells the heartwarming story of how Sophie the rescue dog learned to trust the world.

THE STATE WE'RE IN

Gavin Esler ▶
Dead Cats, Strategic Lying & Truth Decay
 SAT 27 SEP 10.30AM
 In the UK and US alike, political bad faith and collapsing trust in institutions threaten democracy. Gavin Esler and ex NPR chief of staff Chris Turpin ask what can be done.

◀ Jeremy Hunt
Can We Be Great Again?
 WED 1 OCT 7.30PM
 The former chancellor of the exchequer and foreign secretary takes issue with those who argue that Britain's decline is inevitable. In an age of uncertainty and fear, the global community needs the UK more than ever.

◀ Kathryn Faulke
Every Kind of People
 SUN 28 SEP 12 NOON
 Faulke's joyful and funny bestselling memoir explores the life-changing impact of care work on recipients and carers alike, and the extraordinary drama to be found in everyday lives.

▲ Horatio Clare
We Came by Sea
 SAT 4 OCT 3PM
 When the author of The Running Sky set out to write about the small boats crisis, he found a story nobody was telling, about quietly heroic British people caring for vulnerable strangers.

IN COLD BLOOD

▼ Graeme Macrae Burnet
Benbecula
 FRI 26 SEP 7.30PM
 The Booker Prize-nominee returns to the historic rural Scotland of His Bloody Project for a tale of madness and murder based on a historic case in the Hebrides.

▲ Ajay Close
What Doesn't Kill Us
 MON 29 SEP 6PM
 Inspired by the Yorkshire Ripper killings, the winner of the Saltire Prize for Fiction 2024 asks how much relations between the sexes have changed since the 1970s – and how much they haven't.

▼ Nina Allan
A Granite Silence
 WED 1 OCT 3PM
 In her exceptional new novel, Allan takes the true tale of the 1934 murder of a nine-year-old Aberdonian girl and imagines the aftermath, asking: "Who gets to tell a story and why?"

PATHFINDERS

▼ Esa Aldegheri
There She Goes
 FRI 3 OCT 3PM
 Join some of the contributors to this inspirational new anthology which celebrates women on the move, highlighting themes of adventure, joy and female travel's unique challenges.

▲ Mollie Hughes
Breathe: Life Lessons from the Edge of the World
 SAT 4 OCT 12 NOON
 Mollie Hughes has climbed two faces of Everest and skied to the South Pole. She tells Louise Minchin about the life lessons learnt along the way.

▼ Sara Stewart
A Long Way South
 TUE 30 SEP 1.30PM
 From coups and kidnappings, to ill-advised romance and brief encounters with Ronnie Biggs and Bruce Chatwin, Stewart's 1970s Latin American travelogue is an instant classic.

WARRIORS

▲ Roger Moorhouse
Wolfpack: Inside Hitler's U-Boat War
 FRI 3 OCT 10.30AM
 Nearly 3,000 allied ships were sunk by U-Boats in WW2 and 30,000 German submariners died – three-quarters of those deployed. The historian recounts the untold story of the underwater war.

▼ Iain MacGregor
The Hiroshima Men
 SUN 5 OCT 10.30AM
 The historian talks about his nuanced and deeply humane account of the development of the atomic bomb and its consequences, including new Japanese perspectives.

Richard Wallace ▶
Chanel's War: Escape From France
 SAT 27 SEP 12 NOON
 How did Coco Chanel evade the Allies when Paris fell, despite clear evidence of Nazi collaboration? The former Daily Mirror editor reassesses the fashion icon's war years.

▼ David Price
How to Build a Spitfire
 SAT 4 OCT 10.30AM
 When David Price decided to build a replica Spitfire in his garden, his wife wasn't entirely pleased. He tells his story alongside that of the RAF's quest to create a war-winning fighter jet.

ART & MUSIC

▼ Lesley-Ann Jones Love, Freddie
 MON 29 SEP 12 NOON
 Few people knew Freddie Mercury kept a diary. On his death in 1991, he left 17 notebooks. When biographer Lesley-Ann Jones gained access to them, little did she guess the secrets inside.

◀ Damian Barr The Two Roberts
 SAT 4 OCT 4.30PM
 The author of Maggie and Me discusses his novel about the love between working-class painters Robert MacBryde and Robert Colquhoun, now largely forgotten stars of the art world in the 1940s.

▶ Eleanor Chan Duet: An Artful History of Music
 FRI 3 OCT 6PM
 The classically trained musician and art historian talks about her bracingly original history of music which focuses on how humanity has attempted to capture visually the essence of sound.

▲ Christopher Baker Lady Agnew
 MON 29 SEP 10.30AM
 The former curator at the National Galleries of Scotland tells the story behind one of its best-loved paintings. Who was Gertrude Vernon? And why does John Singer Sargent's portrait resonate for so many?

▼ Justin Currie The Tremelo Diaries
 FRI 26 SEP 6PM
 While touring America in 2022, the Del Amitri frontman discovered that he had early-onset Parkinson's. He talks to fellow sufferer Rory Cellan-Jones about a life-changing diagnosis and the unique musical memoir it inspired.

POETRY

▲ Erica McAlpine Small Pointed Things
 SAT 27 SEP 4.30PM
 Poignant and funny in equal measure, with hints of Wordsworth, Frost and Marianne Moore, McAlpine's poems often address human concerns by comically reimagining them through the lives of plants and animals.

▼ Ruth Padel Girl
 SAT 4 OCT 4.30PM
 One of the UK's most gifted poets presents a portrait in verse of two iconic female figures – the Virgin Mary and the Cretan snake goddess – unravelling millennia of myth men have woven around girlhood.

HISTORY MAKERS

▲ Charlie English The CIA Book Club
 SUN 28 SEP 1.30PM
 The former Guardian International Editor talks to Gavin Esler about the astonishing story of the 10 million books that US intelligence smuggled across the Iron Curtain, from George Orwell to Agatha Christie.

▼ Lucy Hughes-Hallett The Scapegoat
 THUR 2 OCT 12 NOON
 The Baillie Gifford Prize-winning biographer recounts the meteoric rise and fall of George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, lover of James I and power behind the throne at the Stuart court.

▲ Claire Mitchell & Zoe Venditozzi How to Kill a Witch: A Guide for the Patriarchy
 SUN 28 SEP 3PM
 The campaigners and writers offer an impassioned analysis of Scotland's witch trials. Why did the patriarchy go to such lengths to silence women?

▼ Anne Sebba The Women's Orchestra of Auschwitz
 TUE 30 SEP 10.30AM
 In 1943, SS officers in charge at Auschwitz ordered that an orchestra should be formed among female prisoners. With exquisite care, Sebba tells their members' stories.

▶ Luke Pepera Motherland
 SAT 27 SEP 3PM
 A ground-breaking exploration of African culture and identity, as the author traverses 500,000 years of history to connect with his heritage. "A wonderful debut by a talented and exciting young historian", Peter Frankopan.

▲ Julie McNeill Love Goes North
 SUN 28 SEP 4.30PM
 Julie McNeill invites you to take the slow train with her. Love Goes North is ideal for poetry enthusiasts, travel lovers, and anyone captivated by the stories that unfold and human connections made on the road.

▼ Marjorie Lotfi The Wrong Person To Ask
 WED 1 OCT 4.30PM
 Addressing themes of exile and displacement, Marjorie Lotfi's debut, The Wrong Person to Ask, won the 2024 Forward Prize for Best First Collection. She will read from it and new work relating to her Iranian heritage.

ECO STORIES

Rose George ▶
Every Last Fish
FRI 3 OCT 1.30PM
Rose George's book is both an eye-opening investigation into the dark places of the fishing industry – legal and illegal – and a celebration of our planet's strange and beautiful underwater worlds.

◀ Adam Weymouth
Lone Wolf
SUN 5 OCT 12 NOON
The Sunday Times Young Writer of the Year relives his epic walk across the Alps in the footsteps of a wolf, illuminating Europe's wild places as they face political and environmental change.

◀ Alice Mah
Red Pockets
TUE 30 SEP 12 NOON
Beset by eco-anxiety, Mah decided to visit her family ancestral village in China. This powerful memoir by the Glasgow professor of environmental studies asks: What do we owe past and future generations?

▲ Alex Riley
Super Natural
THUR 2 OCT 10.30AM
Riley's awe-inspiring portrait of how life finds a way in the harshest circumstances takes us from arid deserts and frozen seabeds to the ruins of Chernobyl and Himalayan peaks.

FRESH VOICES

▼ Michael Pedersen
Muckle Flugga
FRI 26 SEP 4.30PM
The Edinburgh Makar and Neu Reekie co-founder kicks off the festival with his debut novel. A lighthouse keeper's life implodes when a writer arrives on a remote island.

▲ Lauryn Hamilton Murray
Heir of Storms
SAT 27 SEP 4.30PM
The 25-year-old debut author grew up in Edinburgh writing stories about "sad girls, secrets and storms". Now her epic "Romantasy" series is the talk of YA publishing.

▼ Foday Mannah
The Search for Othella Savage
SUN 28 SEP 12 NOON
A tale of religious and political corruption spanning Scotland and Sierra Leone, the Glasgow school teacher's compelling crime debut has already picked up many admirers.

BEHIND PALACE WALLS

▼ Fern Riddell
Victoria's Secret: The Private Passion of a Queen
SAT 27 SEP 3PM
The cultural historian and broadcaster sheds new light on the passions of Queen Victoria and presents new evidence that her relationship with her Scottish manservant, John Brown, was physical.

▲ Rosemary Goring
Exile: The Captive Years of Mary, Queen of Scots
TUE 30 SEP 3PM
From the moment she stepped onto English soil in 1568, Mary became the captive of her cousin, Elizabeth. Goring revisits her tragic story and asks: "Did it have to be this way?"

▲ Andrew Lowrie
Entitled: The Rise and Fall of the House of York
THUR 2 OCT 4.30PM
Lord Mountbatten's biographer discusses his explosive exposé of the Duke and Duchess of York, which reveals the secrets and scandals behind their extravagant lives and troubled marriage.

Grant Harrold ▶
The Royal Butler
SAT 4 OCT 6PM
He was a boy from an Airdrie housing estate who grew up obsessed with the monarchy. So how did Grant Harrold end up as a butler to King Charles and all-round etiquette expert?

OUR MATERIAL WORLD

▼ Clare Hunter
Making Matters: In Search of Creative Wonders
WED 1 OCT 1.30PM
As children, we made things and it made us happy. So why not as adults? Hunter celebrates the joy of the handmade in all its wonderful variety and encourages us to get crafty again.

▲ Philip Marsden
Under a Metal Sky
SAT 4 OCT 12 NOON
Starting in tin-rich Cornwall and moving East across Europe, the travel writer brilliantly explores how our species' need and greed for minerals has determined the course of human history.

▼ Tim Minshall
Your Life Is Manufactured
SAT 4 OCT 6PM
Where does "stuff" come from? A wonderfully illuminating and entertaining tour behind the scenes of the world of manufacturing will change the way you see everyday objects for ever.

VISITOR INFORMATION

Event listings

This brochure offers an overview of the festival. To discover more about individual events, including comprehensive listings and speaker biographies, visit our website.

Festival venues

Most venues are within a short walking distance. See the map on p36-37 for details, including information about parking and events out of town.

Accessibility

Access guide

Visitors with particular access needs are warmly invited to contact us on 01988 403222. An access map is also available from the office. To download our accessibility guide, please go to wigtownbookfestival.com/visit/accessibility.

BSL signing, subtitling and induction loops

We are offering British Sign Language (BSL) signing for a number of events from 27-29 September. See [BSL] in listings for details. We will also be experimenting with AI subtitling throughout the festival. The Festival Marquee, County Buildings and McNeillie Tent are equipped with induction loops.

Streaming

We recognise that not everyone is in a position to attend in person. A selection of events will be available for live streaming. For information, please see our website.

Food & Drink

Places to eat and drink are listed on p37. Pre-booking for evening meals is advised. Catering vendors will be located outside the County Buildings each weekend.

The pop-up Festival Café is located in the Supper Room on the first floor of the County Buildings, serving light lunches, snacks and drinks. It will be open 9.30am-5pm at weekends and 10.30am-5pm weekdays (12 noon-5pm Fri 26 Sep). For additional hours, please see the festival website.

Travel to Wigtown

Wigtown is in the Machars peninsula in Dumfries & Galloway. Journey time by car is approximately 2.5 hours from Glasgow and 3 hours from Edinburgh. The nearest railway stations are Barrhill (from Glasgow and Ayr), Dumfries (from Carlisle) and Lockerbie (from Edinburgh).

Useful websites to find out about travel, accommodation and other local attractions are: visitsouthwestscotland.com, wigtownbookfestival.com, scotlandstartshere.com

Sustainable transport

We want to help visitors to the festival travel more sustainably where possible. Our Sustainable Travel guide (bit.ly/4IQBBL7) provides up-to-date information about planning your journey using electric vehicles, buses, trains and bikes. For shared transport from and to Dumfries railway station, please contact the box office and we will be happy to advise on times when cars or our festival minibus may be travelling.

WIGTOWN'S BOOKSHOPS

"When I have a little money, I buy books; and if I have any left, I buy food and clothes,"
– Erasmus

A Book Town can't exist without its bookshops. Wigtown's are a national treasure, little temples to serendipity, full of books you never knew you needed to read before browsing. More than 250,000 titles line their shelves. Laid end to end, they would stretch to Dumfries. Please support our businesses by giving them your trade. Each book you buy makes Scotland's National Book Town stronger and more sustainable.

Scotland's National Book Town

In the mid-1990s, it was suggested that a "book town" on the model of Hay-on-Wye would be a good way to help regenerate a community in Scotland.

Six small towns with varying economic needs submitted bids. Half were from Dumfries & Galloway – Gatehouse of Fleet, Wigtown and Moffat. The others were Dalmellington, Dunblane and Strathaven. An international panel chose Wigtown.

The former county town of Wigtownshire had been at its lowest ebb. There were many empty and run-down properties, and the almost derelict County Buildings on the town square were threatened with demolition. Wigtown then had one of the highest levels of unemployment in Scotland, but the town boasted a beautiful setting and a rich history.

Now there are more than a dozen bookshops and related businesses here. In 1999 the new Scottish Parliament acknowledged Wigtown as Scotland's National Book Town.

Friends of Book Town

By becoming a Friend, you can support the festival and get a variety of perks at the autumn event and in Wigtown all year round. Prices start at £40. Full details on the website or from the box office.
